

REBEL LEADER HEADED FORCES

Another Big Battle Takes Place
In the Philippines.

AQUINALDO LEADS THE ATTACK

Force of Insurgents Said to Have Numbered Five Thousand.
Slaughter Was Great.

A special from Manila says: After cutting the railroad and telegraph at Apalit, several miles south, for the purpose of severing connection, the rebels attacked General MacArthur's lines at San Fernando at 4:30 o'clock Friday morning. They met with an unexpectedly warm reception, and were repulsed with a loss of seventy-five men, thirty prisoners and many wounded.

The rebels' force is estimated to have been 5,000 men. They advanced stealthily from the jungle north of the city and then divided, with the evident purpose of surrounding the Americans.

The outposts of the Iowa regiment discovered the enemy and retired to their lines, where the entire division awaited in an entrenched position. The Iowa regiment and the Kansas regiment received the first shock of the attack. Reserving their fire until the enemy was within 600 yards, the first volley of the Americans hit the rebels, who returned the fire wildly, the rest of their line failing to advance. The Americans, who thoroughly enjoyed the novelty of the situation, awaiting the attack, sallied forth and the insurgents thereupon turned and fled into the jungle. Our loss was fourteen men wounded, and the majority of them are only slightly hurt.

General Funston's brigade of Kansas and Montanans; General Hale's brigade, the Seventeenth regiment and the Iowa regiment constituted the force engaged.

Aguinaldo is reported to have personally conducted the attack and preparations were made for several days to bring forward troops from Candababa, and others from Dagupan were transported by rail.

Along the front of the Kansas regiment thirty-nine dead were counted. The first news of the Filipino advances was reported by a telegraph operator, who was sent to the bridge at Apalit to ascertain the cause of a break in one of the wires. He was compelled to beat a hasty retreat under fire.

A Spanish officer who has been a prisoner in the hands of the rebels, and who was released by Aguinaldo, has come through our lines to Manila. He claims to have been a witness of the assassination of General Luna.

According to his story, the relations between the two Filipino leaders had been strained to the breaking point because of Luna's attempts to assume control of affairs, and the final rupture was forced by Aguinaldo issuing secret orders to the provincial governments.

Otis Sends News of the Assault.

The following cablegram was received at Washington Friday afternoon from General Otis:

MANILA, June 16.—Anjunt General, Washington: Notwithstanding the concentrated large force near San Fernando and early this morning attacked MacArthur's troops; enemy quickly repulsed and driven, leaving over fifty dead on field and large number wounded; enemy in retreat. Our casualties fourteen wounded, mostly very slight. Preparation for this attack in progress several days, believed to be under personal direction of Aguinaldo.

Two Million People in Chicago.

Chicago's population, according to Chief of Police Kiple, has finally passed the two million mark and is now 2,088,042. The figures are a result of the census taken by the police force.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Gen. Lawton Tries to Locate Insurgents But Fails to Find Them.

A Manila special says: The Filipinos retreated several miles southward after Tuesday's engagement to the strongly fortified town Imus.

The shelling of the American warships drove the rebels from Bacoor, so that the Americans control several miles of coast. General Lawton with his staff and a troop of the Fourth cavalry, started to ascertain the nature of the insurgents' position. He rode five miles along the coast to Bacoor without discovering the enemy.

He found the town full of white flags. But there were no soldiers.

COCKRELL IS EMPHATIC.

Missouri Senator Says "Free Silver" Will Not Be Relegated.

The attention of Senator Cockrell of Missouri was called Monday morning to a report that the democratic managers intended to relegate free silver to secondary place in their next platform. "This is all nonsense," said the Missouri senator. "The free silver plank will be adopted without modification and pushed without stint."

MINERS IN A DEATH TRAP.

GAS EXPLOSION AND SUBSEQUENT FIRE CUTS THEM OFF.

ELEVEN BODIES ARE RECOVERED.

There Were One Hundred Diggers In the Pit at the Time of Accident—Scenes of Horror Ensnare.

Advices from North Sidney, B. C., state that the most appalling disaster in the history of Cape Breton coal mining occurred at the Caledonia mine at Glace Bay, the principal colliery of the Dominion Coal Company, Friday, when two explosions caused the death of eleven men, including Thomas Johnson, the underground manager of the works, and brother of the assistant manager of the Dominion Coal Company. Up to noon eleven bodies had been recovered.

The explosion occurred in the west pit at a depth of about three-quarters of a mile and was caused by gas which had accumulated in the old workings. The full force of men employed in the mine at night is about 150, but the night shift had just stopped work and all but about sixty had left the mine. There was scarcely an intermission between the concussions. The first was a dull boom. Then there was a rumbling noise like an earthquake, succeeded by a deafening, prolonged and awful roar, which reverberated among the hills for miles and the shock of which shattered glass in every direction in the immediate vicinity of the disaster.

The meaning of the sound was well understood through the mining district, and anxious people flocked to the mine entrance. Before they arrived suffocating volumes of coal smoke began to pour out, showing that fire had followed the explosion.

The officials of the mine were among the first to reach the shaft. A tally of the men showed that some three score were missing, but a moment later some of the miners appeared, having escaped by a slope. There were about twenty-five in the company who were able to report their presence to the anxious friends at the shaft, but several others who had managed to get out of the slope had fallen, overcome by exhaustion or the fumes which they had inhaled. When these had been numbered it was evident that at least twenty men, and possibly thirty, had been cut off by the explosion.

Of the incidents attending the explosion the survivors were for a long time too confused to give an intelligent account. There was no apparent danger at midnight nor up to 2 o'clock a. m., when the underground manager, Thomas Johnson, now missing, last reported.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the watchman detected the smell of gas and burning wood and Manager Thomas Brown was notified. He opened the shaft just as the explosion occurred. The alarm was given and work of rescue was promptly undertaken by a large number of miners.

The rescue party was confronted with many difficulties. Men, women and children hung about the opening of the slope, weeping and distracted. Down below a pitchy darkness prevailed, lighted by occasional brilliant bursts of the conflagration raging through the pit.

Bodies Brought To Surface.

After a brief time a body was brought up, then another and another until eleven had come to the surface. None of them were mangled, but all were blackened. The bodies were laid side by side in the large room in the office building. Men and women crowded into the place and the identifications were accompanied by most pitiful scenes.

FIGHT TIN PLATE TRUST.

Capital Is Combining To Give a Combine a Hard Tussle.

Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana; Charles Edwin Miller, of New York, and J. E. Shawhan, of San Francisco, had a consultation at Chicago Friday looking to the formation of a combination to fight the tin plate trust. It is proposed to establish a plant at Joliet, Illinois, with a capital of one million dollars.

JUSTICE CHAMBERS PROTECTED.

Samoa Commission Has No Power to Remove Him From Office.

A Washington dispatch says: No information has come from any official source to the effect that the three consuls and the chief justice at Samoa were to be relieved.

The impression prevails among the officials that Mr. Osborne, the American consul, has been fortunate enough to avoid making enemies at Apia, and he is believed to be obnoxious neither to the German nor the British elements. As to Chief Justice Chambers, the Samoa commission it is said, has no power to remove him.

Hanna Denies a Report.

Senator Mark Hanna has flatly denied the report sent out from Washington that he intended to retire from the chairmanship of the national republican committee.

Cremated His Own Son.

Gary Booker, a negro, is in jail at Jacksonville, Fla., charged with the murder of his ten-year-old son. The coroner's verdict was to the effect that the boy was burned to death by his father.

An Argument.

The United States a Power for Good. A distinguished historian writes, while referring to this nation's advent as a colonizing power, that we represent the "century's political conscience," and that our influence for good over European spheres will be immense. This result was just as inevitable as the cure which follows the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great remedy which is found in every home and drug store throughout the country. It cures indigestion, constipation, overworked kidney and liver, allays nervousness, and tones up the whole system.

The Bumboatmen of the Orient.

There is probably not a port at which ships ever touch where the business of bumboating does not exist. In China it is especially active as well as at the various ports of Indo-China and British India. The bumboatmen of Alexandria, Egypt, are said to be the laziest of their profession. Too indolent to make an effort to get alongside a ship, they sail aimlessly up and down among vessels in the harbor, crying monotonously, "Ebrtying! ebrtying!" This is intended to describe the extensiveness of their wares, but it is deceptive, for they usually have next to nothing to sell. Sometimes they rouse themselves just before a ship is about to depart, and come alongside, offering pigeons and other birds and animals, which the sailors often buy for pets. In far-away Madagascar the natives are enthusiastic bumboat traders, and frequently swarm about the ship in great numbers.—New York Tribune.

Mules for the Fiji Islands.

Forty mules have been sent to the Fiji Islands from San Francisco, Cal. They will be used on a large sugar plantation. This is the first shipment of the kind, and is regarded as an experiment, which, if successful, will result in many others of the animals being sent to the South Sea Islands.

TO CURE CONSUMPTION.

This Scourge is Mankind's Most Dangerous Enemy.

Dr. George F. Keene, of Howard, R. I., read a paper on "Municipal Responsibility in the Spread of Tuberculosis" before the twenty-sixth national conference on charities and correction at Cincinnati. Lively interest was taken in the paper and the discussion which followed it.

"Every new case of tuberculosis," Dr. Keene said, "must be derived from another case of direct or indirect infection. The disease can only be transmitted to the tubercle bacilli."

"This is a disease which has claimed more victims than all the wars and all the plagues and scourges of the human race. Even since the few short years since Koch's discovery over 2,000,000 persons on this continent have succumbed to its fatal infection. The annual tribute of the United States to this scourge is over 100,000 of its inhabitants."

"Each year the world yields up 1,005,000; each day, 3,000; each minute, 2, of its people as a sacrifice of this plague. Of the 70,000,000 individuals now peopling these United States 10,000,000 must inevitably die of this disease if the present ratio is kept up."

"The underlying principle in any warfare against tuberculosis must be the universal knowledge and recognition of the fact that we are to deal with a disease that is communicated from one individual to another, and where there are no germs of the disease there it can never originate de novo. A house, a neighborhood, a country, in fact, can become infected with this disease, and this fact has been repeatedly established by historical data."

"That meat from the tuberculosis animals is capable of producing tuberculosis has been demonstrated by scientific experiments. We cook our meat, but the lovers of rare roast beef and rare steak, or even Bologna sausage, will probably often take into their stomachs many tubercle bacilli whose vitality has been unimpaired."

"But what are we to say of the thousands of infants that die annually from tubercular lesions as a result of taking milk from tuberculous cows? Whose is the responsibility for feeding them upon a diet whose results are as surely fatal as slow poison if they belong to the large majority of the susceptible? Milk is one of the chief infected foods which we obtain from the lower animals, and it is the only animal food which we consume uncooked. The milk supply of a municipality should be as carefully watched as its water supply."

"The people must know just what this disease is and just how it is contracted. They must be taught that the chief agent of contamination in the human family is the sputum. How important, then, are those newer ordinances which many cities are now making, prohibiting spitting in public places, public buildings and public conveyances?"

"Consumption is an indoor disease. Where sunlight and pure air are bountifully enjoyed there tuberculosis can find but little lodgment."

Confusion in Telepathy.

A very remarkable occurrence has been brought to my notice. Recently, a well known lady, who shall be called Jones, dreamed a ridiculous dream, as inconsequential as most dreams are. Mrs. Jones dreamed that a dog of hers had died and that she received an official communication ordering her either to cremate the remains or to herself skin the animal and throw the body into the river. Mrs. Jones chose the latter alternative, but having half skinned the body and becoming tired threw it as it was into the water. The dog disappeared for an instant and then reappeared on the surface alive and swimming across to the opposite bank, trotted off, evidently in great suffering. There ends the dream. The next morning the postman brought several letters. The first one was addressed to Lewis Jones, Esq.—there being no such person—and ran as follows: "Sir, your dog crossed the river last night on to my property, but being very severely injured it was found necessary to kill it. Should you wish to have the collar, which bears your name and address, I shall be happy to send it to you." No dog belonging to Mrs. Jones had died nor had she lost one!—London Truth.

Freeing a Domestic Eagle.

A friend of mine, who told me the story, had an eagle. He caught it when it was young and had brought it up, as far as he could, like a domestic fowl. Having to go to the other side of the world, he was selling off everything. He wondered what he should do with the eagle, and the happy thought came to him that he would not give it to anybody, but would give it back to itself—he would set it free. And he then opened the place in which it had been kept, and brought it to the back green. How he was astonished! It walked about, feeling as if it were rather bigger than his ordinary run, but that was all. He was disappointed, and taking the big bird in his arms, he lifted it up and set it up on his garden wall. It turned and looked down at him! The sun had been obscured behind a cloud, but just then the cloud passed away, and the bright, warm beams poured out. The eagle lifted its eyes and pulled itself up. I wonder what it was thinking? Can an eagle recollect the cliffs and crags, the reveling in the tempests of long ago, the joyous thunder and the flashing lightnings? Pulling itself up, it lifted one wing and stretched it out and it lifted the other wing and outstretched it. Then it gave a scream, and soon was a vanishing speck in the blue of heaven.—Presbyterian Banner.
